The Grief Edu-Therapy™ Process

New Cognitive Behavioural Model of Grief Resolution

How can I more effectively help my Community?
... how can I help my Community help themselves?

The Grief Edu-Therapy™ Process Certification is a unique training program that teaches the specific tools to eliminate the emotional pain of grief. For over 30 years, Eric Cline, the founder of The Grief Edu-Therapy™ Process, has been helping griever feel better by ridding themselves of conflicting emotions and creating resolution for their unresolved grief.

What Is Grief Resolution?

Resolution is the emotional process of reconciling painful conflicting emotions, whether from unresolved grief, trauma, abuse, or many other painful experiences. After completing The Edu-Therapy™ Process participants most often report achieving a feeling of peacefulness and a sense that they are ready to move on.
