Come together to share positive and practical strategies that build the right path toward sustainability and good governance for your community while remaining true to your traditional culture and values.

Design your own learning experience by choosing any combination of the four Sharing Circles:

- ✓ Be present as an active contributor to your community
- ✓ Be open to honest discussions with your peers
- ✓ Pursue greater economic independence in your community
- ✓ Confidently move towards self-governance
- ✓ Learn from Chiefs and Elders from across the country

Enrich your communication skills at one of our In-Depth Meeting Groups:

Supported by:

MEETING GROUP 1:

- Deciphering Financial Reporting for Elected Leaders

or

MEETING GROUP 2:

- Effective Communication with Indigenous Communities

Wisdom • Love • Respect • Bravery • Honesty • Humility • Truth

INDIGENOUS LEADERSHIP & SELF-GOVERNANCE

June 19 & 20, 2013 • Ottawa Marriott Hotel • Ottawa, ON

Top Reasons to Attend

- ✓ Share positive experiences with your peers
- ✓ Increase sustainable capacity-building opportunities
- ✓ Pursue greater autonomy in decision-making
- ✓ Confidently move towards self-governance
- ✓ Gain invaluable insight directly from community leaders

SHARING CIRCLES

A LEADERSHIP - A community decides who is fit to lead. True leadership must be earned. These success stories will inspire you to develop a leadership strategy that moves you towards the right path for your community while remaining true to your traditional culture and values.

B SELF-GOVERNANCE - Not every community has the benefit of natural resources, tourism or land resources. Take these key lessons back to your community and share all you need to know about negotiating self-government agreements while guarding against the potential consequences of these arrangements. Get out from under the standards imposed on you in order to become an independent and prosperous community.

C LEGISLATION AND RECENT CASE LAW - In light of the new federal legislation, the time is ripe to discuss accountability issues and strengthen community-based accountability.

D FINANCIAL ORGANIZATION - Aboriginal communities spend a significant time being accountable to the Federal government, yet your primary accountability relationship is between Indigenous governments and your own People.
