

The Residential School Experience has left many filled with anger, fear, resentment, a loss of trust, and feeling unsafe in their own communities. This unresolved grief disconnects our mind, body and spirit; it drains our energy, and brings conflict into our relationships.

Courageously, many have shared their stories and connected with others with similar experiences. Sharing may be helpful for a short time, but it does not resolve the long term pain and anger. Resolution is a skill that must be learned. It is a learning that will last a lifetime. These skills can be easily repeated over and over again. In fact these skills can be passed on to the next generation. The Residential School Experience has harmed many lives. If you are still coping with those negative effects, this Conference and Workshop is for you.

Edu-Therapy™ Solutions invites you to participate in "The Next Step: Heal Your Heart" in Winnipeg, Manitoba, and learn about pain resolution, dealing with the physical, emotional and spiritual aspects of loss.
