About NATOA

The National Aboriginal Trust Officer Association (NATOA) is a national charitable organization formed in 2006, dedicated to assisting Aboriginal communities in building capacity within communities with their Trust Settlements. The organization moved forward with the commitment of a core group of volunteer board members, committee members, and most recently, the assistance of a dedicated administrative Manager.

A number of significant accomplishments have taken place since inception, including the creation of foundational promotional materials, a website, several successful educational workshops, securing key corporate sponsors, and doubling the membership. In addition to the launch of the first phase of the online trustee training program through Lethbridge College in 2011, NATOA is currently developing further online courses.
